Introduction

Who is this book for?

Business Vocabulary in Use Advanced builds on the success of Business Vocabulary in Use Intermediate. It is designed to help advanced learners of business English to improve their business vocabulary. It is for people studying English before they start work and for those already working who need English in their job.

The emphasis is on language related to today's important, and sometimes controversial, business issues.

You can use the book on your own for self-study, or with a teacher in the classroom, one-to-one or in groups.

How is the book organized?

The book has 66 two-page units. The first 59 of these are thematic and look at the vocabulary of business areas such as human resources, quality, strategy, logistics, IT, marketing, finance, corporate responsibility and the global economy.

There are then three units which focus on the language of the skills needed for doing business across cultures. The final four units develop business writing skills.

The left-hand page of each unit explains new words and expressions, and the right-hand page allows you to check and develop your understanding of the words and expressions, and how they are used through a series of exercises.

There is cross-referencing between units to show connections between the same word or similar words used in different contexts.

There is an Answer key at the back of the book. Most of the exercises have questions with only one correct answer. But some of the exercises, including the Over to you activities at the end of each unit (see below), are designed for writing and/or discussion about yourself and your own organization or one that you know.

There is also an Index. This lists all the new words and phrases which are introduced in the book and gives the unit numbers where the words and phrases appear. The Index also tells you how the words and expressions are pronounced.

The left-hand page

This page introduces new vocabulary and expressions for each thematic or skills area. The presentation is divided into a number of sections indicated by letters: A, B, C, etc., with simple, clear titles.

In Business Vocabulary in Use Advanced, explicit reference is made to the business material in the Cambridge International Corpus (CIC) – business pages of newspapers, business textbooks, and business meetings and discussions. The texts are stored in a database, which is searchable in various ways to reveal the patterns of business usage. The database has been exploited to identify typical word combinations found in the data, and there are notes about their relative frequency.

As well as explanations of vocabulary, there is information about typical word combinations. Again, the CIC has been a prime source of information about these.

There are notes on the relative frequency of different words, for example:

Note

Pass, omit or skip a dividend occur in this order of frequency. There is no difference in meaning.

There are notes about differences between British and American English, for example:

Note
BrE: labour; AmE: labor
BrE: trade unions; AmE: labor unions

The right-hand page

‘Over to you’ sections

An important feature of Business Vocabulary in Use Advanced is the Over to you section at the end of each unit. There are sometimes alternative Over to you sections for learners who are in work and for those who are studying pre-work. The Over to you sections give you the chance to put into practice the words and expressions in the unit in relation to your own professional situation, studies or opinions.

Self-study learners can do the section as a written activity. In many Over to you sections, learners can use the internet to find more information.

In the classroom, the Over to you sections can be used as the basis for discussion with the whole class, or in small groups with a spokesperson for each summarizing the discussion and its outcome for the class. The teacher can then get students to look again at exercises relating to points that have caused difficulty. Students can follow up by using the Over to you section as a written activity, for example as homework.

The Answer key now contains sample answers for the Over to you questions.

How to use the book for self-study

Find the topic you are looking for by using the Contents page or the Index. Read through the explanations on the left-hand page of the unit. Do the exercises on the right-hand page. Check your answers in the Answer key. If you have made some mistakes, go back and look at the explanations and the exercise again. Note down important words and expressions in your notebook.

How to use the book in the classroom

Teachers can choose units that relate to their students’ particular needs and interests, for example areas they have covered in coursebooks, or that have come up in other activities. Alternatively, lessons can contain a regular vocabulary slot, where students look systematically at the vocabulary of particular thematic or skills areas.

Students can work on the units in pairs, with the teacher going round the class assisting and advising. Teachers should get students to think about the logical process of the exercises, pointing out why one answer is possible and the others are not (where this is the case).

We hope you enjoy using Business Vocabulary in Use Advanced.

1 The working environment

A My work is so rewarding

'I work in advertising. I love my work! It's really rewarding and stimulating – satisfying and interesting. Originality and creativity are very important in this industry, of course; we have to come up with – produce – lots of new ideas.

'No two days are the same. I could be contacting film companies for new advertising campaigns one day and giving client presentations the next. I like the client contact and I am very much hands-on – involved with the productive work of the agency rather than managing it.

'When I joined the agency, I hit it off with my colleagues immediately. I still get on well with them and there's a very good rapport between us. This is all part of my job satisfaction.'

B I like the teamwork

'I'm an aircraft engineer. I work on research and development of new aircraft. I love putting ideas into practice. I like working on my own, but it's also great being part of a team. I like the teamwork (see Unit 9) and the sense of achievement when we do something new. And of course, the planes we produce are very beautiful.

'Is there anything I don't like? I dislike days when I'm chained to a desk. I don't like admin and paperwork. Sometimes I feel I'm snowed under – there's so much to do I don't know how to deal with it. And in a large organization like ours, there can be a lot of bureaucracy or red tape – rigid procedures – that can slow things down.'

C I like the perks

'I'm in luxury goods sales. I have some nice perks, like a company car. I have to meet demanding sales targets every month, so the work can be very stressful (see Unit 6). But I enjoy the flexibility that I have in working when I want to without someone breathing down my neck all the time. Unlike my husband, who has to travel into London every day, I don't have to commute to an office – I'm out seeing clients most of the time. My boss allows me to work from home when I'm not seeing clients. My office uses hot-desking, so when I do go into the office I use whichever desk is free. I only get two weeks a year vacation time. If there's a family emergency, I can take time off without having to ask my boss. I work quite long hours – about 60 hours a week – but I enjoy my job.'

Note

BrE: holiday
AmE: vacation

Management styles 1

Motivation 1

Yolanda is a senior manager of a car rental firm:

‘I believe that all our employees can find satisfaction in what they do. We give them responsibility – the idea that the decisions they take have a direct impact on our success – and encourage them to use their initiative – they don’t have to ask me about every decision they make. My style of management is participative – employees take part in the decision-making process. They are given a sense of empowerment (see Unit 3).

‘We hope this feeling of empowerment gives employees the feeling that they are valued – with management knowing the effort they make. We believe that all this leads to a higher sense of motivation – interest, enthusiasm and energy – among employees. When everyone feels motivated, morale is good and there is a general feeling of well-being in the organization. This leads to improved job satisfaction.’

Motivation 2

Xavier is a factory manager:

‘I don’t believe in all this talk about motivation. My subordinates – the people working under me – are basically lazy. They need constant supervision – we have to check what they are doing all the time. Some people think this is authoritarian, but I think it’s the only way of managing. There have to be clear rules of discipline – you have to be able to tell subordinates what is right and wrong, with a consistent set of disciplinary procedures.

‘Decisions must be imposed from above without consultation – we don’t discuss decisions with workers, we just tell them what to do.’

Note

Subordinate is very formal and can be negative. It is much less frequent than employee.

Theory X and Theory Y

Xavier believes in what the US management thinker Douglas McGregor in The Human Side of Enterprise called Theory X – the idea that people dislike work and will do everything they can to avoid it.

Yolanda believes in Theory Y – the more advanced view that, given the right conditions, everyone has the potential to find satisfaction in work.

2.1 Yolanda's employees are talking about her management style (see A opposite). Replace each underlined item with an expression from A, keeping the rest of the sentence as it is. Pay attention to the grammatical context. The first one has been done as an example.

- 1 She knows exactly what's involved in our jobs. She makes us feel she understands the effort we make. valued
- 2 She encourages us to do things without asking her first.
- 3 The feeling among employees here is very good. We feel really involved and want to work towards the company's goals.
- 4 We have a real sense of the idea that our efforts are important for the success of the company.
- 5 We have a real sense of liking what we do and feeling good when we achieve specific goals in our work.

2.2 Look at B and C opposite. Read the text and answer the questions.

McGregor's ideas about managerial behaviour had a profound effect on management thinking and practice. His ideas give a frame of reference for managerial practice. His Theory Y principles influenced the design and implementation of personnel policies and practices. Today they continue to influence participative styles of management and the continued practice of staff performance appraisal – the evaluation of employees' work.

McGregor defined theories that he felt underpinned the practices and attitudes of managers in relation to employees. These were evident from their conversations and actions. The two sets of ideas were called Theories X and Y. McGregor was saying that what managers said or exhibited in their behaviour revealed their theories-in-use. These led managers to pursue particular kinds of policies and relationships with employees. Regrettably, McGregor's Theory Y was interpreted and promoted as a 'one-best-way', i.e. Y is the best! Managers or aspects of their behaviour became labelled as Theory X, the bad stereotype, and Theory Y, the good. McGregor's ideas were much informed by Abraham Maslow's model of motivation. People's needs provide the driving force which motivates behaviour. Maslow's ideas suggested that worker dissatisfaction with work was due not to something intrinsic to workers but to poor job design, managerial behaviour and too few opportunities for job satisfaction.

- 1 What have the long-term effects of McGregor's thinking been, according to the article?
- 2 Which factors reveal whether a manager believes more in Theory X or Theory Y?
- 3 Name two things that result from these factors.
- 4 Did McGregor think that Theory X or Theory Y represented the best way of doing things?
- 5 Who influenced McGregor's thinking? What did this thinker believe to be the main factor in determining people's behaviour?
- 6 Is employee dissatisfaction due to something within employees themselves, according to this thinker? Why? / Why not?

Over to you

Write a memo to the head of your organization or one you would like to work for, suggesting ways to encourage initiative among employees.

Hygiene factors

Yolanda, the car rental manager we met in the previous unit, went on a management course. She looked at the work of Frederick Herzberg*, who studied what motivates employees. Here are the notes she took:

Some aspects of work can lead to dissatisfaction if they are not at a high enough standard.

These are what Herzberg calls the hygiene factors:

supervision – the way employees are managed

policy – the overall purpose and goals of the organization working conditions – the place where you work, hours worked, etc.

salary

peer relationships – how you relate to and work with others on the same level of the organization

security – level of confidence about the future of your job

Motivator factors

Other aspects of work can give positive satisfaction. These are the motivator factors:

achievement – the feeling that you have been successful in reaching your goals

recognition – the feeling that your employers understand and value what you do by giving positive feedback, which means telling you what a good job you are doing

the work itself – the nature and interest of the job responsibility – when you are in charge of something and its success or failure advancement – how far you will be promoted in the organization and/or how far you will go up the career ladder

personal growth – how you develop personally in your work, and your opportunities to do this

Note

Note the spelling of career.

Empowerment

Now look at the more recent idea of empowerment (see Unit 2).

Empowerment is the idea that decisions, where possible, should be made by employees who are close to the issues or problems to be solved, without having to consult their managers further up the hierarchy. In other words, managers have to delegate as much as possible. Delegation is one of the keys to employees being empowered in this way. Also, organizations become less hierarchical, with fewer management levels.

**Work and the Nature of Man*, 'One More Time: How Do You Motivate Employees?' Harvard Business Review, 2008.

3.1 Look at this job advertisement. Match the underlined items (1–6) with the hygiene factors in A opposite.

DUVAL

Hi Jane, How are you? I've been at Duval and Smith, an Anglo-French law firm in Paris, for three months now. I've had experience of translating a lot of different documents, so (1) ..... is interesting enough, but I don't get any (2) ..... for the work I do – my boss never says anything. He never gives us any (3) ..... – for example, he never lets us deal with clients directly. I never get a sense of (4) ..... – my boss takes all the credit for the work we do.

There are quite good opportunities for promotion and (5) ..... at Duval and Smith, but I'm not sure I want to stay. I think there must be better opportunities elsewhere for me to develop, and as (6) ..... is important to me, I've decided to move back to the UK and look for a job there.

So hope to see you in London soon – I'll give you a call.

All the best
